PRITCHARD IS SCHEDULED

To Address the Senate Next Monday

ON AMENDMENT RESOLUTION.

Considerable Interest Outside of North Carolina as to What Defense He Will Make of It.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Jan. 16—Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, is scheduled to address the senate, according to announcement made by the senator the other day, next Monday, Jan 22nd, upon his proposed resolution declaring the amendment which is to be voted upon in North Carolina next August, in conflict with the constitution of the United States. Although, as announced the other day, Senator Pritchard has modified his resolution, so that in its terms it only refers to the amendments now in force in Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina and other states where it has been adopted, its real object and purpose remains unchanged, for it is aimed to influence the vote of North Carolina. Indirectly the resolution affects the states which have adopted an amendment similar to that of North Carolina's proposed amendment, inasmuch if the senate should adopt the Pritchard resolution, placing the senate on record, as declaring in its judgment that it is contrary to the constitution of the United States, it would afford an opportunity for contests against the senators and representatives elected under the terms of the said election laws. There is considerable interest therefore manifested outside of North Carolina, in the defense that Senator Pritchard will make of his resolution, which is contrary to all precedent in either the senate or the house. The senator's speech, it is said, will be devoted to some extent to a reply to the speech of Senator Morgan delivered in the senate last week. The greater portion of the speech, however, will be devoted to a rehersal of the arguments used in the last North Carolina campaign, and the object will be to affect, if possible, the vote on the proposed amendment. North Carolina democrats in Washington are convinced that the resolution will not come to a vote in the senate.

A representative of the Southern Railroad in Washington yesterday stated that the travel from North Carolina to points in Georgia and Florida this winter has exceeded the travel last winter. He also stated that a large number of Virginia people were traveling over their line for points in North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida. During the past week a large number have passed through Washington enroute South, many of them intending to spend the winter at the well known resorts in North Carolina.

Miss Sulloway, of North Carolina, is spending the winter in Washington, being a guest at the Hotel Varnum. Miss Sulloway assisted at the reception of the North Carolina Society the other day. Monday, January 22, she will assist at the reception of the ladies of Hotel Varnum.

Miss Claudia Stuart, of this city, gave a very pretty tea last Saturday afternoon, which was largely attended by prominent southern people in Washington. Among those who were present were Mrs, Marion Butler, the wife of the North Carolina senator. Mrs. Butler takes a prominent part in the social doings of the North Carolina contingent of Washington, and is much sought after. Her receptions are among the most delightful of those given by the southern contingent of the national capitol.

Among prominent North Carolina people in Washington Monday was R Henderson, of Salisbury, who is here on a business trip. He is stopping at the Metropolitan hotel, and will be here a few days.

W. M. Banks has been appointed postmaster at Briggsville, Madison county, N, C.

It is said that General H. V Boynton, the well known Washington newspaper man, is being urged by several senators to enter the field for secretary of the United States senate to succeed General Wm. R. Cox, of North Carolina.

Washington, Jan. 16—The senate committee on inter-oceanic canals today directed Chairman Morgan to report with favorable recomendation a bill providing for the construction of the Nicaraguan canal.

The hause has taken up the urgent deficiency bill and debate thereon will continue throughout the day.

Tenement House Burned.

By Wire to the TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 16—Tenement house on Delancey street was burned this morning Five firemen at one time went into the basement, but reeled back out, overcome by great black clouds of smoke, and fell exhausted in the arms of their comrades. Five more went in, but came out the same way. This continued until twenty firemen were overcome with smoke.

SMALLPOX TODAY.

The Situation is Not Alarming and is Well in Hand.

We have it. That is, the disease is abroad in the land and is in Greensboro, but the situation is neither serious nor alarming. Eight cases of a mild type were discovered in the city yesterday, confined to the negro sections on the outskirts.

Prompt action was taken by the authorities, and all suspects, along with the pronounced cases, have been detained and will be confined in the smallpox hospital.

It is unfortunate that our resident physicians could not agree in their diagnosis of the cases reported; but in all cases the suspects have been watched and there are no more cases by reason of this disagreement. No case has developed by contact with those in the city. Each case came from elsewhere. The city has been liberal, perhaps too much so, and has not quarantined against any section having smallpox. For instance, while a quarantine to keep sick people leaving the Terra Cotta works, was established, teams from that section have been running regularly into the city. This, perhaps, should have been prohibited.

The mildness of the type has taken away many of the terrors of the disease and people have regarded it lightly.

At a meeting of the board of aldermen last night, Mayor Taylor, Chief of Police Scott and a committee of three aldermen, were instructed to take the matter in hand. Dr. R. L. Rierson was elected special health officer, and with the committee, immediately began the work of isolating and vaccinating. Everything is now well in hand and those in authority believe that with the hearty co-operation of all good citizens that the disease will be short lived There is no excitement and no cause for any. The cases are all light, so light, in fact, that the subject claim not to be sick, and would not go to bed unless required to do so.

Dr Wertenbaker, the government expert, says that with proper efforts there need be no spread of the contagion. Those efforts are being made, and no serious results are feared.

Card From P.esident Dudley.

A. & M. College, Greensboro, N.C., January 16, 1900.

Editor Telegram:

Upon the advice of our college physician, Dr Dellinger, yesterday (Monday) afternoon, we requested Mayor Taylor to have Dr. C. P. Wertenbaker, past assistant surgeon of the United States Marine Hospital Service, examine a student, whose sickness, though very slight, had caused us some feeling of apprehension. Dr. Wertenbaker examined the case and pronounced it smallpox in a mild form. We immediately had the boy removed from the college, began a thorough system of disinfection, and have had all students, teachers and attaches of the college vaccinated. The combined effect of these three measures—isolation, disinfectiou and vaccination, so strongly recommended by Drs. Wertenbaker and Dellinger, will, we confidently believe, entirely remove the danger to which we have unwittingly been exposed, and render the continued attendance of our students here safer and wiser than their departure for home. While we shall make no effort to have any student remain against his will, or the wishes of his family, we believe as has been advised by the doctors, that their departure now is unnecessary, unwise and to some extent dangerous.

Therefore, we recommend that our patrons give themselves no undue uneasiness, as every possible precaution, probably more than could be taken by them if at home, is being carefully observed. No concealment of conditions at the college will be made. Should it appear that any other has already been infected by the exposure which no longer exists prompt announcement will be made of its development. With the complete isolation of the case which we now have on hand, the thorough disinfection of the building which is now in progress, and the vaccination of all persons connected with the college, it is the opinion of all competent authorities that further infection here is highly improbable and well-nigh impossible.

In connection with the diagnosis by our college physician, Dr. Dellinger, it may be a matter of interest to know that Dr. Wertenbaker, who is one of the best known smallpox experts in the south, stated that the case we have presents less symptoms of smallpox than any other he had examined in the city.

For the present Dr. Dellinger will make daily inspection of the students, that no suspicious symptoms may escape attention.

After a little excitement incident to the announcement of smallpox in our school, and the interruption of our work on account of general vaccination, conditions have become normal and the regular work of the college has been resumed. Very respectfully,

James B. Dudley.

ALL ENGLAND IS SILENT.

Waiting Definite News From General Buller.

BELIEVE A BATTLE IS RAGING.

There is a General Feeling That Ladysmith Will be Relieved Shortly—Buller' Battle.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Jan. 16.—All England is silent waiting for news from General Buller and his forces in South Africa War officials are absolutely silent as to his movements, The belief prevails that a battle has been fought and is still raging at three points, Tugela River, Potgiter's Drift, Colenso, and by General Warren's division.

The dispatches continue to show that the general feeling at Pietermaritzburg and Estcourt is that Ladysmith will be relieved shortly. General Buller's battle apparently began at Potgiters Drift three days ago.

TWENTY BOERS KILLED

Rensburg, Jan 15.—The Boers this morning attempted to rush a hill held by the British and lost twenty-one killed and about fifty wounded.

DISASTROUS TO BRITISH

Pretoria, Jan. 16—Advices from Laager, Ladysmith, report that the attack on the sixth was disastrous to the British, and that Ladysmith appears to be in sore straits. As a result of the bombardment at Mafeking yesterday the British fort eastward was demolished and the British retired. One Boer was wounded.

PROFOUND SENSATION.

Liverpool, Jan. 16—A profound sensation has been caused here by the publication in the Post of what is declared to be a letter written by General Wauchope, remonstrating against the plan of battle which compelled him to lead the "Black Watch" into the battle of Magerrfontein, the battle which he disapproved, over the plans which he and General Methuen disagreed upon. This letter comes like an accusing voice from the grave. The letter follows:

"This is the last letter I shall ever write. I have been ordered to perform an impossible task, and have vainly remonstrated, but must obey or surrender my sword." The Post asserts that the war office is in possession of the letter and that as a consequence General Methuen will soon be suspended from the command at Modder River.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Oamago, Jan. 16—The bodies of seventy-five American soldiers, in metallic coffins, were taken north yesterday, on the transport McClelland. These bodies were left over when those of the other soldiers were disinterred last January.

It was evidently expected that more soldiers would die in the hospitals than actually did die, for the quartermaster has over twelve hundred coffins yet on hand. The next transport will take a thousand of these north and some are to be shipped to the Philippines.

Among the lot is a coffin containing the body of a soldier killed at El Caney. This coffin is not marked and it will be necessary to open the unused coffins to determine which one contains the body.

Steamer Sinks.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Lallipolis, Jan. 16—The passenger steamer Lexington, owned by the Carr line, of Charleston, W. Va., while racing with the opposition packet Argand, struck the lock wall at Seary, breaking in two and sinking immediately. The Argand went to the rescue and took off the passengers and crew. The sunken steamer is a total wreck.

THE "GREAT FATHER."

Under the heading "Appeals to the Great Father in Washington" the Charlotte Observer says:

The southern republicans appear to have about the same idea of the Federal government when it is in the hands of their party as some of the North American Indians—regarding it as the "great father to whom they can take all their troubles. We are now told that Washington is full of republicans from North Carolina and Kentucky, all imploring the administration to do something to help them out of their misery. The delegation from North Carolina is working for some action on the part o fthe general government that will defeat the constitutional amendment, while the Kentuckians are trying to inject national affairs into Goebel's contest for Taylor's gubernatorial seat. It is said that Mr. McKinley told the latter crowd that he could do nothing for them, and intimated that he had "troubles of his own."

It would be interesting to have these southern republican politicians explain why they should be protected against the rule of the majority of their fellow citizens, any more than democrats wh live in republican states. It does appear as a matter of fact, that when a republican administration has full sway in Washington every office-holder or office-seeker of that parry in the south thinks all he has to do to get local conditions shaped his way is to go to Washington and register his complaint, and get the constitution involved, and this is applicable to all classes of southern republicans—from the gaugers up.

There is no way in which Mr. McKinley could create a better sentiment in the south for his administration than by giving these unpatriotic grievance bearers the cold shoulder. They have already received too much consideration at the hands of the admidistration.

We commend the action of Mayor Taylor in securing a government expert to pass upon the disease about which our doctors have been unable to agree. Dr. Wertenbaker pronounced it smallpox of a very mild type, and accordingly effective work will at once be inaugurated—has already been started in a vigorous manner Mayor Taylor and Chief Scott, with Dr. Rierson as special health officer, are in charge, and all may rest assured that there will be nothing left undone, which can be done, to stamp out the disease. Let everybody aid the officers by example and influence and the work will be light and effective. There is nothing alarming in the situation and no serious results are feared either to business or health.

If physicians who have been treating such diseases all their lives disagree as to malarial and typhoid fever, how can they be expected to agree on a diagnosis of smallpox and chickenpox, diseases with which they are acquainted only by reading the books?

Truesdale on Trial.

The negro, William Truesdale, formerly a waiter in the McAdoo House, this city, and who was tried at September term of court in Charlotte for the murder of Janie Brown, convicted and sentenced to be hanged, but granted a new trial, is now on trial again in that city. The Charlotte News of yesterday says:

The trial of the case was begun at 10 o'clock this morning. By 1 o'clock all the evidence was in and at the afternoon session the argument was begun. Mr. Lotte Humphreys, for the defense, opened the argument. He was followed by Mr. F. M. Shannonhouse also for the defense. Solicitor Webb followed, and Mr. Chase Brenizer closed the argument. The case was given to the jury as the News went to press.

A British agent stationed at New Orleans has been notified to cease at once all purchase and shipment of mules for his government.

A Post-Bellum High School.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

Dear Sir—There is a fraction of the educational history of Guilford county that will probably be lost to posterity unless it find record in some permanent shape.

Rev. John Calvin Denny, now dead, was a Presbyterian clergyman (though he afterward sustained other church affiliations), who lived fifteen miles north of Greensboro on the Yanceyville road, by Lewis Bridge. He was a good Hebrew, Greek and Latin scholar and could speak German fluently; a graduate of Princeton He had a consultation with the Rev. Alfred Norman, who persuaded him to open a classical school at his place. With the assurance of the cooperation and sympathy of Uncle Norman, which he received in large measure, he opened the school in January 1866 (?). During that term he had only four male boarders, viz: Rev. W. C. Norman, now in Durham, Mr. C. A. Groome, Mr. J. R. Garrett, of Reidsville, and the writer. In the fall the school was well attended, about thirty male and six female boarders, with about the same attendance from the surrounding territory. These pupils were from the best families of the country, and represented the various shades of religious belief of the section.

Mr. Denny was the peer of any educator we have ever known in his fitness to inspire ambitious aims in his pupils. He was skilled in the art of bringing out their best endeavors as well. He developed a high sense of honor amongst them. He had the usual spelling B's, required the school daily to read together the New Testament and stanzas of poetry. He had them to institute mock courts to try miscreants, with judge, jury, advocates, etc. We had splendid athletic grounds, and built a large swimming pond While as good behavior prevailed as could be expected even from excellent boys, some episodes will indicate the eating propensities of the heartiest boys: Four boys walked to Monticello, about two miles south, one afternoon, and bought four dozen eggs, which they asked Mrs. Denny to have cooked. They ate them all at a meal. They made a wooden key and one night entered the kitchen, stealing twenty-one large semi-circular "turnover" pies, only a part of which they could eat. These are extremes and do not indicate the general average, of course.

The work done here for two years was of a high order. Many of the students in this school went forth without further educational training, to become most successful business men and most successful farmers in Rockingham and Guilford counties.

Besides the divines mentioned above. Rev. Dr. H. A Brown, of Winston, and another equally successful in his profession attended the last sessions of Mt. Vernon High School. I refer to Rev. G. Simpson, now of Western Maryland College, at Westminster Md. He afterwards graduated at Trinity College, Randolph county, in 1878, and was for a time president of Yadkin College in Davidson county About sixteen years ago he was elected to the professorship of which he is now the incumbent. He studied chemistry under Dr. Ramseur, of Johns Hopkins University for two years and had the degree of Doctor of Philosophy conferred upon him the past year

It was the writer's privilege to lecture before the Western Maryland college last February, and to witness the popularity and deserved success of Dr. Simpson. He has contributed some of the most valuable articles to scientific works of late years, and is often called into requisition for addresses before the state teachers' association and county teachers' associations of Maryland, as well as to lecture before his own college.

But I return to our school and Rev. Mr. Denny. It will be remembered that from 1867 to 1870 were dark days in North Carolina, politically speaking. Woe to that man who belonged to the Union League or sympathized with the republican or "radical" party; social ostracism was his lot. Mr. Denny fell amidst these woes. He was a republican from principle and by education. There could not possibly have been any but the poorest policy in pursuing such a course as he did. His entire school were democratic in sentiment. Yet he, as they supposed, would attend occasional meetings at night which the boys thought to be meetings of the union league or "Red Strings," as they were called. He once had Judge Tourgee to lecture before the school. Being on a "Fool's errand," he foolishly compared North Carolina to the crab that waits for a larger or different crab to quit its shell, which the impatient mollusk proceeds to occupy, so said he, North Carolina does nothing of an initiative character, but patterns after New York or some other northern state, and much more vituperation of the same ilk. This infuriated the boys, and the seeds of dissolution were planted, a conspiracy was formed with a view to transplanting the school entire, except the principal, to a more congenial climate, which was done just two years after its inauguration, and most successful operation. It was carried eight miles further north to Lenox Castle, Rockingham county and was taught the first five months by Rev. W. C. Norman and the Rev. Mr. Gilliam and afterwards by Dr. Reece, of Virginia, and still later by Dr. Simpson, referred to above.

The school lost nothing by its move but kept up in numbers and the high standard set at Mt Vernon After continuing for two years at the latter location, for want of teachers, (the old ones having all gone to college to carry forward their studies) the school suspended, never to be reopened.

Yours truly,
P. L. Groome.

LONDON IS CONFUSED.

Surmise and Rumor—The Conditions Around Ladysmith.

London, Jan. 16, 4 a. m.—General Buller's latest authentic word as to what he and his 30,000 men are doing, was wired from Springfield after his first forward step. Striving to think out the unknown, London is confused by surmise and rumor and disquieted by ruspense.

Spencer Wilkinson, the lucid military expert of the Morning Post, asserts that the Boer force in northern Natal is larger than General Buller's and Sir George White's together, so that the Boers are able to leave a force around Ladysmith larger than that within the town, and yet to oppose General Buller with a force superior to his own.

Reports from the Boer camps affirmed that the circle of investment has been drawn closer by the occupation of some hills near the town, thus liberating re-inforcements to oppose General Buller.

Although the war pages of the great dailies today are almost barren, the telegraph instruments click ceaselessly. Yeomanry recruiters are getting only one and one-half companies out of upwards of 1000 applicants in the metropolitan districts, the others failing to meet requirements, and although the provinces are doing better, the raising of 10,000 yeomanry is far from easy. A strike among the military tailors is another perplexity.

J. P. Robinson, the South African millionaire, in a signed article in The Daily News, this morning, relates conversations he had with President Kruger. On one occasion President Kruger said:

"Do you mean to tell me that you do not know that the men who organized and engineered the Jameson raid organized it for their own benefit? They had decided how they would divide the Transvaal and how each of the parties was to have certain interests in this country. Many reformers, who were put in jail, were perfectly innocent They were ignorant of the schemes of the men in the inner circle. There were only twelve men in that inner circle, and they were to divide the Transvaal among themselves. They and their companies found the money for the raid. Do you think we are so innocent as not to know that Rhodes, metaphorically speaking, held a pistol at the heads of certain men in England and said to them: 'If you do not support me I shall denounce you and your complicity in the raid'?"

At this stage, according to Mr. Robinson, Mr. Kruger became more excited, and shouted so loudly that people in the street stopped to listen to the conversation. Mr. Kruger then said: 'And now you are remonstrating with me about arming. It is true that I am arming, and it is because I see clearly that I must defend my country." To this Mr. Robinson replied: "The British public is aroused. If you attempt again to enter this country, there would be a great outcry in England and the imperial countries would take steps to prevent such freebooting expeditions." President Kruger approached Mr. Robinson, placed a hand upon his shoulder, made a violent effort to suppress his excitement, and said:

"You mean well, but I have lost all confidence. What has happened would take place again; and I am determined to guard against it." Later Mr. Kruger said:

"What is to prevent Rhodes and his co-adjutors again entering some diabolical attempt against the independence of my country."

The Birmingham Mail, the organ of Joseph Chamberlain, says: "We understand, on the highest authority, that if the government is defeated in Parliament on the question of the war, the cabinet will immediately appeal to the country, and all the ministers having decided to stand together and not to permit any individual minister to be made a scapegoat."

REPUBLICANS DISAPPOINTED.

Were Going to Rockingham, but They Say Red Shirts Stopped Them.

The republicans had planned to open the campaign in this state today at Rockingham with a great blast of trumpets.

Senator Pritchard was to fire the big gun; and office-holding republicans, both large and small, had been notified to assemble at that point. Yesterday the local republicans here, who expected to be present, were notified that Senator Pritchard had cancelled his engagement, and that there would be no speaking because of the appearance of smallpox near Rockingham. It was stated that court had been adjourned and quarantine regulations were being enforced.

Some of the republicans at once declared that Red Shirts were responsible for the condition of things, and that a scare had been gotten up to prevent Senator Pritchard from speaking there. One republican declared that he believed the Red Shirts had brought a case of smallpox in the community in order to break up the senator's engagement, all of which goes to show how humorous republicans can be at times.

Collector Duncan, Marshal Dockery, Dr Abbott, District Attorney Bernard, Postmaster Bailey and, in fact, many of the Republicans here, had made arrangements to be present at Rockingham today.—Morning Post.

Gaining a Wide Reputation.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. D. B. Johnston, of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1862. In speaking of it he says: "I never found anything that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and pained me very much, but one good application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

SOUTH CAROLINA HORROR.

Preacher's Sad Death, Causing Insanity of His Wife.

Coroner Jones, of Pickens county who was here Saturday, gave an account of the sad and tragic death of Rev. A. McS. Attaway, a prominent young Methodist minister, who was a brother of Rev. Mr. Attaway, of Traveler's Rest, and son of Rev. John Attaway, of Williamston. His death occurred at his his home, six miles west of Pickens, and was caused by heart failure, superinduced by a violent attack of insanity. It is thought he lost his mind by reason of the death about ten days ago, of a son. Mrs. Attaway is now also insane and is being guarded. Both have been treated in the state hospital for the insane.

Mr. Attaway's death was attended by harrowing circumstances. First he went into the yard and killed his favorite dog by cutting its head off with an axe. Next he killed a hog in the same way. Then he went into the house and lay down. Suddenly he was seized with a spasm and jumped out of bed and began to destroy the furniture. Then he seized his wife's clothing, near her neck, between his teeth. In her terror she told her daughter to kill him. The daughter had a carving knife in her hand.

"Get him off!" the mother screamed to the child, frantic with fright. "Cut his throat with the knife! It is necessary! If you don't he will kill me and all of you!"

"Oh, no, mama!" replied the daughter exhibiting remarkable courage and presence of mind. "That needn't be done. I'll just cut the piece of dress loose he has in his mouth."

This was done, and immediately the suffering man fell and died. Mrs. Attaway became violently insane in a short time—Greenville, (S. C.) Daily News.

That delayed shipment of boys and little gent's shoes came in at last this morning. It took them a long time to get here but they opened up all right when they did come. The little gent's shoes have very low common sense heels, a decided improvement on spring heels. Sizes in these are from 8½ to 13½, price $1.25 The boys' shoes, sizes running from 1 to 5½, are the best we have seen for the price, which is $1.50 For boys who are particularly hard on shoes we especially recommend our stout quilted bottom satin calf shoe. These have steel slugs in the heels to prevent running over and are made to stand rough weather and rough wear.

Words of Praise from a Banker

Mr. Chas. E. Currier, of the Atlanta National Bank, is very careful with his words, not only in banking, but in his conversation generally. I consider it a medicine of high merit."

NO PANIC AT CHAPEL HILL.

Recitations Go on as Usual. Only One Boy Gone Home.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Jan. 15.—The University campus presents the same characteristic scenes today as it did last week. Everybody is going along about his business and the one case of smallpox creates not the faintest shadow of a panic One boy, as far as far as can be learned, has been ordered home.

All the students have been vaccinated and every possible precaution to prevent the spread of the disease has been taken. The young mans's father, who has had smallpox, is here to assist in nursing his son.

Eminent medical men from all over the state (many of them having boys here) are satisfied that the situation is under control.

The mayor of Chapel Hill, Mr. Alger S. Barbee, and the board of aldermen have taken prompt action, requiring everybody to be vaccinated and deposit a certificate of vaccination with the mayor before the 20th of January.

"I am indebted to One Minute Cough Cure for my health and life. It cured me of lung trouble following grippe." Thousands owe their lives to this never failing remedy. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents consumption. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. BITTER DISCRIMINATIONS.

Discussion in the Senate Brings on Hot Words.

Washington, Jan. 15—The senate had two hours of its session today taken up with a discussion of the Philippine question. Berry, democrat, of Arkansas, made an argument in favor of the joint resolution introduced by Bacon, democrat, of Georgia, disclaiming the purpose of the government to retain possession of the Philippines. Pettigrew, silver republican, of South Dakota, followed and indulged in bitter recriminations against the president for his course in prosecuting the war. Then Wolcott, republican, of Colorado, poured out the vials of his wrath on Pettigrew, whom he said was always ready to attack every person and every cause. He also criticised Beveridge's speech of some days ago, saying that duty and not lust for gain should be our motive for holding the islands.

The remainder of the session was consumed with a speech against the gold standard by Rawlins, democrat, of Utah. The house session was occupied with the consideration of measures relating to affairs of the District of Columbia. June W. Gayle, new representative from the seventh Kentucky district, appeared and took the oath.

KRUGER URGES MORE ENERGY.

The President Quotes Scripture in a Circular to the Burghers.

London, Jan. 16—A dispatch to The Daily Mail, dated Saturday, January 13th, from Lorenzo Marques, says:

"President Kruger has issued a proclamation ordering all burghers to the front. The Volkstem, the Transvaal official organ, suggests that the moment the British cross the border the gold industry should be irretrievably destroyed.

"President Kruger also issued a circular, dated January 8th, to Boer commandants and burghers, urging them to show more energy in the Transvaal cause. He quotes Psalm 23, verse 7, as God-given instructions to the burghers, and says that the British have fixed their faith in Psalm 83. He also quotes Psalm 89, verses 13 and 14, and asserts that he has searched the Bible without being able to find any other mode which can be followed by the Boers, who must fight in the name of the Lord.'

"Commandeering is proceeding busily at Pretoria, where the town guard is exchanging Mausers for Martinis, as the former are badly needed at the front. It is said that there are nearly 3,000 British prisoners in Pretoria."

ONE KILLED, ONE WOUNDED.

Political Feud Breaks Out Afresh at a Trial in Texas.

Austin, Tex., Jan. 15.—A political feud, which has waged for years in Colorado county, broke out again today at Bastrop, where the case of J. G. Towsend, of Columbus, charged with the murder of one of the opposite faction was up for trial. Over three hundred witnesses were present at the trial, and a company of State Rangers were present to preserve order. The case was postponed, and as the crowd of witnesses went out of the court the shooting commenced. A son of Sheriff Reece, of Colorado county, was killed and another man was wounded. The Rangers finally quelled the riot. Governor Sayers tonight ordered another company of Rangers to Bastrop.

Hans Andersen has a story of a buffalo that scorned the snow flakes. "Pouf," he snorted, "I can blow you away with a breath, what can you do to me?" But the flakes kept falling, falling, until the buffalo was almost buried, and the hunter slipped along the snow crust and made him an easy prey. There's another hunter who hunts to kill, who makes many a man his victim because of a folly like that of the buffalo in Andersen's fable. It's a little thing to have that uneasy feeling in the stomach after eating. Sour risings and belching are also reckoned little things. Yet these little things are among the minor marks of a disordered condition of the stomach and organs of nutrition and digestion. Of themselves they may not kill, but if despised they may open a pathway to some deadly disease.

Don't neglect the first symptoms of indigestion or "stomach trouble." The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery may avert a more serious danger. It will surely cure any disease of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, excepting cancer.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the celebrated Irish comedian and mimic, of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it, till last week, while playing at B. F. Keith's Bijou Theater, Philadelphia, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a specific for biliousness.

THE OLD "RED HOUSE."

Greensboro Lumber Co Tearing it Down to Build an Office

Another of the old landmarks of Greensboro today fell a victim to the demands of progress. The old "Red House" on the property of the Greensboro Lumber Co. is being torn down to make room for the erection of an office, warehouse and lumber shed, which will be erected at once

The Greensboro Lumber Co., successors to the Greensboro Sash and Blind Co., was organized yesterday It was published some months ago that the old concern had sold its plant to West Virginia capitalists, who would take charge this month. The new company organized by electing W. W. Whyte, of West Virginia, president; J. W. McNairy, of this city, vice-president; John M. Stivers, of W. Va., secretary and treasurer.

Mr. McNairy is well known, having been one of the owners under the former management, and his friends will be glad to know that he will remain "at the old stand." Mr. Stivers i a stranger to Greensboro people, but is not a stranger to the lumber business, had twenty years' successful experience as a wholesale dealer in both Virginia and West Virginia.

Besides the improvements above mentioned, new machinery will soon be added and the capacity of the plant increased. We extend a welcome to the new company and bespeak for the new citizens it may bring due consideration. May they "live long and prosper."

MORE WILL RETURN.

The Directors' Report Has Inspired Confidence.

President McIver, of the State Normal and Industrial College, tells us that since the report of the directors was sent out, a number of young ladies who had not intended coming back, have written saying that they have decided to return

The prospects are brightening every day for a good opening under the circumstances. Careful and thinking people have given it as their opinion that the college from now on will be unusually healthy. The cause of the fever having been discovered and removed and thorough renovation having been made, there seems to be good grounds for this belief.

THE ORGAN RECITAL

At the First Presbyterian Church Thursday Night.

Greensboro is to have a rare musical treat next Thursday night. Mr W. S. Moore received by mail this morning from Prof. Craighill a list of the organ numbers, every one of which is a gem. Prof. Craighill, though a younfi man, has the reputation of being one of the finest organists in the south.

The local talent, under the direction of Prof. Parker, have some choice vocal numbers.

At the conclusion of the programme the entire audience, led by an orchestra of twenty-five pieces, will stand and sing "America," under the direction of Prof. Parker.

No admission will be charged to enjoy this grand musical feast, but a silver collection will be taken up to go towards paying for the organ.

The program in full will appear in our columns tomorrow.

For this week only—the only offer of the kind ever made in Greensboro At cost—absolute cost. Guitars, mandolins, banjos and violins. If you are thinking of getting any one of these now is your chance. This means instruments from $1 20 up. Both instruments and prices will please you Remember we sell the celebrated "New Home" sewing machine; also Standard & White.
